HAVE YOU SEEN "MAN OF ARAN"?

It's coming here Nov. 16.

Lecture Hall

8:30

Robert Flaherty, who filmed "Nanook of the North" and "Louisiana Story," made this movie about life in the western isles off the coast of Ireland. He believed in letting the story for his documentaries evolve out of the life of the locale, in letting the camera tell its own story. His cast consisted of the Aran Islanders, the island and the sea. This is a classic in film-making. "Fiddle de Dee," an experiment in camera cartooning, will be shown with it.
